Dear Ms. Hesse,

Anyone who is intelligent enough to buy and operate a computer is intelligent enough to learn that Netscape is available, as "Opera", as well as others. My machines have all had Internet Explorer on them, and I have used the system. I also use "Opera" at the moment. Each has plusses and minuses. Let everyone make a choice. I'm of the opinion that Mr. Gates and Co. have gone far enough. It is time to leave them alone and move on to more pressing business.

Best Regards,

Billy G. Garrett
